

FROM THE COACH

Welcome to Wildcat Basketball. As the head coach at Neuqua Valley High School, Naperville Illinois, I have seen the Wildcats grow into one of the most exciting teams in the Upstate Eight Conference and I expect the 2008-09 season to be no different.

The home of the Wildcats will continue to play host to some of the best teams in the State of Illinois. Our 2008-09 edition of Neuqua women's basketball is poised to continue the trend as one of the top teams in the State. From my first season at Neuqua to the last season the Wildcats have continued a tradition of excellence capturing four conference titles, six state regional championships, and two State finishes in ten years. That success can be traced to an exciting style of play and an outstanding family atmosphere.

Fans of Wildcat basketball can expect us to push the ball up the court and challenge opposing defenses for thirty two minutes each and every game. Our fast pace tempo will create more scoring and a brand of basketball that is exciting to watch. Whether on the court, in the locker room, or hanging out, you will see that our team is passionate about basketball as well as their academic pursuits and volunteering in the community. They are a close knit family of which everyone can be a part.

Everyone in the Neuqua family is looking forward to your support throughout the 2008-09 season. Check us out online at www.nvroadtosuccess.com for schedules and upcoming events.

GO WILDCATS!
